

Advent Liturgical Living 2025

“The Events that come to mind when we say “Christmas,” “Easter,” “Pentecost,” are so tremendous that their commemoration cannot be celebrated in a single day each. Weeks are needed. First, weeks of preparation, of becoming attuned in body and soul, and then weeks of celebration. This goes back to an age when people still had time -- time to live, time to enjoy. In our own day, we face the puzzling fact that the more time-saving gadgets we invent, the more new buttons to push in order to “save hours of work” -- the less time we actually have. We have no more time to read books; we can only afford digests. We have no time to walk a quarter of a mile; we have to hop into a car. We have no time to make things by hand... The atmosphere of “hurry up, let’s go” does not provide the necessary leisure in which to anticipate and celebrate a feast. But as soon as people stop celebrating they really do not live any more -- they are being lived, as it were. The alarming question arises: what is being done with all the time that is constantly being saved? Only the Church throws light onto the gloomy prospects of modern man - Holy Mother Church - for she belongs, herself, to a realm that has its past and present in Time, but its future in the World Without End.”

~ Maria Augusta Trapp, “Around the Year with the Trapp Family”

It seems as soon as the clock strikes midnight on Halloween, the world declares it “Christmas!” but there is a whole season of waiting and preparing that’s sometimes overlooked. We’re reminded of the way that a pregnant mother spends 9 months getting ready for the baby to be born and it’s only on the day of birth that we announce, “Happy Birthday”! So, what is Advent, and how can we celebrate it as Catholics especially amidst a secular backdrop of commercialism and instant gratification?

How Can You Have a Good Advent?

Advent is a season of preparation – 4 weeks to prepare our hearts and home to receive Christ. It is a season of hope and of longing, of joyful expectation and of peaceful preparation. We are reminded in the lectionary readings to remain vigilant, to wake up, and to stay awake. Advent has been called a "little Lent," because it traditionally has included a period of increased prayer, fasting, and good works. Many symbols and traditions are associated with Advent, especially the Advent Wreath with its four colored candles (three purple and one pink), but also nativity scenes, special Advent music, food, processions, and other traditions that may vary from one culture or region to the next.

There is no right or wrong way to celebrate Advent in your home (domestic Church) but hopefully this guide will aid you in finding some ancient and some new traditions. Don’t be scrupulous or feel overwhelmed. Don’t feel like you have to be a Scrooge and turn down every Christmas party invitation during Advent. Don’t feel like you have to do it all. Pick one or two things that you think will be meaningful and good for your family to carry through the season as a way to focus in on the coming of Christ. Start somewhere and build on it in the coming weeks and years. Use the calendar to organize your preparations and map out a weekly rhythm punctuated by special days or activities. Happy liturgical living!

➔ PRO TIP – Keep Christmas out of Advent by switching your playlist to anticipatory songs like these:

Advent Playlist and Hymns:

You Heavens, Dew Drop From Above
O Come, O Come, Emmanuel
O Savior, Heaven’s Portal Rend
Maria Walks Amid the Thorn
Blessed Mother of the Savior
O Christmas Tree
O Come All Ye Faithful

Behold, Behold He Cometh
Hark! A Mystic Voice is Sounding
Savior of the Nations, Come
Lo! He Comes, With Clouds
Descending
Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus
Creator of the Stars and Night
O Come, Divine Messiah
Lo! How a Rose E’er Blooming
Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silent

The Angel Gabriel from Heaven
Came
People, Look East
Ave Maria
It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like
Christmas
I'll Be Home for Christmas
Christmas is Coming
Silver Bells
Santa Claus is Coming to Town

Advent and Christmas Season Customs and Traditions

Catholic New Year

The beginning of Advent marks the beginning of a new liturgical season. We will have a new rotation of lectionary readings at Mass, this year turning to cycle A on November 27th. Much like the turning of the page from Dec 31st to Jan 1st, we can gather friends and family around for a new [Catholic] year's eve party and toast. Unlike calendar NYE, Advent always begins on a Sunday, so Saturday night is a good night to stay up late and ring in the new year with food and special drinks. You can also set resolutions and choose a Saint for the new year to journey with you and/or your family. (Advice from: Catholic All Year Compendium)

Advent Wreath

Advent wreaths bring an importance and focus for each Sunday of Advent. They can be paper and handmade or store-bought beauties. Pair your wreath with readings and devotions to make Sundays a special time this Advent or gather round it each night and light the candles as a family, perhaps at the dinner table. There are so many symbolic elements that point us to the reason for the season – Christ and His coming into the world.

Advent Calendar

Although not there isn't a specific religious element to it, advent calendars create excitement and anticipation as we near Christmas. They typically begin on Dec 1 and count down the 25 days with a fun picture, little chocolate, or even a lego character displayed through little windows in a cardboard box or wooden frame. You can buy one in store, make a paper chain, use little pockets to hide nativity figurines that you add to your display each day, or families sometimes even wrap up Christmas books to be unwrapped and read each day as we anxiously await the Christ. The general idea is to use the calendar as a daily activity to show outwardly the inward anticipation.

Christkindl / "Advent Angels"

The names of all family members are placed in a hat and each member draws out a name secretly. During the advent season, each family member will care for their chosen person with little secret acts of kindness. They might make a bed, give a disguised note that a rosary was prayed in their name, or fold laundry.

"The person whose name I have drawn and who is under my care becomes for me the helpless little Christ Child in the manger; and as I am performing these many little acts of love and consideration for someone in the family I am really doing them for the Infant of Bethlehem, according to the word, "And he that shall receive one such little child in my name, receives me."'" (From Around the Year with the Trapp Family)

O Antiphons

The O Antiphons are Magnificat antiphons sung or recited at Vespers (the sunset or evening prayers of the Church) on the last seven days of Advent (December 17 - 23). The origin of the O Antiphons can be traced back to a 6th c Benedictine Abbey and by the 8th c they had been incorporated into the liturgical rhythm of the Church. The O Antiphons bring the Advent preparations to a joyful conclusion. It's sort of like a holy week at the end of Advent, leading us to Christmas & the gift of the Incarnation.

Las Posadas

In other cultures, they are referred to as The Golden Nights. In Spain and Mexico, the Posada is the period of nine days before Christmas (Dec 16 – 24). On the nights of Las Posadas, families process, knocking at doors asking for entrance just as the Holy Family did. They are refused until Christmas Eve when the door opens and families enjoy warm drinks and refreshments while children are treated to fun with a Pinata. This can be duplicated in the family home with the doors of the bedrooms closed and mom, dad, and youngest child seeking admittance, while all other siblings refuse...until the last. It would be traditional to carry around a statue or piece of art of the Holy Family, St. Joseph or the Blessed Virgin as you bring them with you seeking admittance for the Holy Night.– From Wildflowers and Marbles

Tomie dePaola's book The Night of Las Posadas

Jesse Tree

The Jesse Tree takes you through the lineage and major events leading up to Christ's birth using scripture reading, reflection, and an image/ornament for each day of Advent. The symbols on the ornaments remind us of the Biblical character or event and are hung on a traditional Jesse tree (bare branches) or even a Christmas tree. They can be printed and colored, hand-drawn, store bought, or even fridge magnets.

Mary on the Mantle

A playful and anticipatory activity with kids to replace something like "Elf on the Shelf". Each day Mary is moved around your house as she prepares for her new baby. Mary is busy "nesting" and doing simple, ordinary tasks. When the children find her in the morning, Mary delivers a small act of kindness that they can perform that day. Mary can be found in little vignettes of praying, having a baby shower, sweeping, laying out the Advent wreath, or doing the dishes.

Be A Heart Mary on the Mantle

Straw for the Manger

We begin advent with an empty manger, much like our own hearts, ready to receive Jesus. In order to make a soft bed for baby Jesus, families make bedding from pieces of straw or yarn that represent the prayers, good works, devotions, and sacrifices performed during the season of Advent. At the end of each day, you can put in a piece of straw for each good deed and watch as the bed grows soft with your holy works, ready for Jesus. You can make your own little manger from craft wood and use a peg doll for baby Jesus.

12 Days of Christmas

Just like the song, Christmas lasts more than one day for Catholics! We celebrate it as an entire octave (like Easter) and continue until the Epiphany 12 days later on January 6th (this feast is sometimes observed/moved to the nearest Sunday). Carry on the feasting (after the Advent "fasting") by having little gifts to unwrap each day, making cookies, keeping up all your decorations, hosting Christmas or Epiphany parties, singing Christmas songs, or any general celebrating!

The Traveling Wisemen

Between Christmas and the Epiphany, you can move the three wisemen from your nativity scene around the house. Each morning the children wake up to find them journeying towards the manger. On the feast of the Epiphany they might even leave a small gift for the children (in many Hispanic countries, kids leave their shoes out – with hay for the camels – and they are given presents). Take this time to learn about and discuss the three magi, their gifts, and the countless epiphanies (manifestations of the Divine) in our own lives.

Epiphany House Blessing

A blessings of the home is traditionally done on the feast of the Epiphany. The family gathers at the doorway to the home and says a prayer. Following the prayer, using blessed chalk, the leader chalks above the frame of the door the initials of the 3 Magi – Caspar, Melchior, Balthasar - framed by the number of the year and all figures connected by a cross: 20 + C + M + B + 25

The Epiphany typically marks the end of the Christmas season (though some continue celebrating for 40 days until the Feast of the Presentation of Jesus – Feb 2). You might even make a traditional King Cake to crown the day!

Saint Feast Day Celebrations and Traditions

St Andrew (Nov 30)

The beginning of Advent is always determined by St. Andrew's Day. The Sunday nearest to his feast is always the First Sunday in Advent. If November 30th falls on a Monday through Wednesday, Advent begins the Sunday preceding; if it falls on Thursday through Saturday Advent begins the Sunday following. You can celebrate his feast by reading about his life, snacking on fish or goldfish, and cooking Andreasherzen (St Andrew's Hearts) pancakes or waffles in the shape of hearts. It is piously believed that whoever recites the "novena" prayer fifteen times a day from the feast of St. Andrew (30th November) until Christmas will obtain what is asked. (Imprimatur +MICHAEL AUGUSTINE, Archbishop of New York; New York, February 6, 1897)

Shower of Roses – Celebrating St Andrew

St Nicholas (Dec 6)

While families might choose to forgo or "do" Santa differently, St Nicholas was a real person (born 270, bishop of Myra, attended the Council of Nicaea) and Saint with rich traditions and interesting legends that are worthy of exploration. To celebrate his feast, some children will write letters the night before and leave them in their shoes (near the chimney or front door) for St Nick to collect. He often replaces them with little goodies like chocolate coins, oranges, or even pajamas. Today might be a good day to take a picture with Santa or make St Nicholas cookies (speculaas). Consider watching "Nicholas: the Boy Who Became Santa" or reading some books to bring this Saint to life for your family.

Catholic Icing – St Nicholas Day Ideas

St Ambrose (Dec 7)

Born in 340, there was a legend that as a baby a swarm of bees settled on his face and left behind a drop of honey. It was thought to indicate his future eloquence or "honey-tongue" as he preached the Good News. A holy man whose example brought St Augustine to the faith, he is declared a Doctor of the Church. He has an association with candlemakers (beeswax) so it would be fitting liturgical living to do a candle-related craft or activity on this day as we ask for his intercession and learn about his remarkable life. In the kitchen, anything with honey would be appropriate and you might also consider making an ambrosia "salad" with canned fruit, marshmallows, and whipped cream. (Advice from: Catholic All Year Compendium)

Immaculate Conception of Mary (Dec 8)

A beautiful solemnity in Advent remembering the immaculate conception of our Mother Mary. One way to celebrate this day is by going to Mass and having a dinner of all white foods (the liturgical color), such as chicken alfredo, cauliflower, and white dinner rolls – maybe meringue cookies or cream cheese mints for dessert. Prayers like the Litany of Loreto or singing Marian hymns like Ave Maria or Immaculate Mary would be a great fit!

Catholic Icing – Craft for Immaculate Conception

St Juan Diego (Dec 9) & Our Lady of Guadalupe (Dec 12)

The story of the miraculous apparition of Our Lady to Juan Diego is truly remarkable – roses, an image on a tilma, and overwhelming conversions by an increase in faith. Watch "Juan Diego: Messenger of Guadalupe" or another resource on FORMED.org to learn all about this feast. Consider celebrating this Mexican Saint with authentic Mexican food like tamales – maybe even coming together for a tamalada where families bring the parts of tamales and assemble together. Make Mexican wedding cookies (snowballs) or polvorones de canelê for dessert. Drink Mexican hot chocolate. Make an apron with the image of Our Lady of Guadalupe on it to wear with all the cooking too or enjoy coloring pages of the amazing image.

Catholic Icing – Celebrating Juan Diego and Our Lady

Our Lady of Loretto (Dec 10)

The Virgin Mary was from Nazareth in Galilee and has a childhood home with her parents, Sts Ann and Joachim. This home is where she grew up, made arrangements to marry Joseph, and received the angel Gabriel. The story goes that after the Ascension, the apostles converted her home in Nazareth into a chapel which was discovered in 336 by St Helena who had a basilica built around it. When war in the Holy Land threatened the house, it is said that angels carried it to Loreto, Italy where it is today. It might have been a family with the last name Angels, or the real non-corporeal thing, but one way to celebrate this feast and title of Our Lady is to create gingerbread houses! Learn more about the house at Loreto while using graham crackers or homemade gingerbread dough to construct a fun display house or edible treat. (Advice from: Catholic All Year Compendium)

St Lucy (Dec 13)

The name Lucy or Lucia means "light" which makes this day a particularly welcome celebration for a dark mid-December day. She was a martyr under Diocletian because her fiancé denounced her to the government as a Christian. One of the most familiar celebrations associated with Lucy is the European tradition of girls dressing up like Lucy (a white dress with red sashes) march in procession carrying palms (for her martyrdom). They wear on their heads a crown of evergreens, lingonberry sprigs, and lit, tall, white candles. A traditional breakfast sweet on this day are lussebullar (Lucy buns) with raisins representing her eyes (regular cinnamon rolls are a great substitute in a pinch). This might also be a fun day to drive around and look at Christmas lights. (Advice from: Catholic All Year Compendium)

St John of the Cross (Dec 14)

A Spaniard from the 16th century, great poet, friend and fellow mystic of St Teresa of Avila, St John of the Cross is well known for founding the Discalced (barefoot) Carmelites. One misadventure was his imprisonment in a cell for nine months where he could only eat bread, water, and salt fish (which could make a great snack today!). For dinner you might serve up a Spanish soup like the Castilian sopa de ajo (garlic soup) and for dessert, peanut butter kiss cookies. The brown peanut butter cookie reminds us of the wood of the cross and the chocolate kiss on top is for St John's love for it (brown and black are also the colors of the Carmelite habit). Consider reading his poems and venerating the
